

NEW FEATHER
WEIGHT CHAMPIONJOHNNY KILBANE NOW POSSES-
SOR OF TITLE.Won From Attell in Twenty Round
Fight at Los Angeles Thursday—
Decision Was Popular—Other Prize Fights.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 22.—A new champion was born to pugilism in the Vernon arena today, when Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, Ohio, decisively outfought, out-gamed and out-punched Abe Attell in their twenty-round contest, and at the close was awarded the featherweight title by Referee Charles Epton. Kilbane led from start to finish, and at no time was the result in doubt. The receipts amounted to approximately $25,000. The men fought for a purse of $10,000, which Attell was to receive $6,500, win, lose or draw, and Kilbane $3,500.

Before they agreed to divide evenly ninety per cent of the moving picture privilege.

Attell's speed and wonderful cleverness were not in evidence. Kilbane made him look like a novice in nearly every round. In only one round, the seventh, did Attell have a lead and that was not by any means as decisive as that of Kilbane in the remaining rounds.

Attell brought the wrath of the big crowd upon his head by foul tactics. Repeatedly he would hook Kilbane's arms in a clinch and in the eighth, he seized Kilbane's left arm with both hands and tried to turn it back. In the third he "beeled" the Cleveland lad while in a clinch and in nearly every succeeding round his work culled forth hisses from the spectators. In the sixteenth when, after rushing into a clinch to avoid Kilbane's merciless tattoo of his face and body, Attell butted the Clevelander with his head, opening a great gash over Kilbane's left eye from which blood spurted profusely.

At the beginning of the sixteenth round Referee Epton stopped the fight and taking a towel, thoroughly wiped off Attell's body. It was seen to be covered with some greasy substance. Attell protested, but the referee paid no attention to him.

Kilbane's work was a revelation.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round 4—Kilbane jabbed Attell twice. Attell tried to clinch but was avoided. The boys clinched and wrestled about the ring. Kilbane was landing three blows to Attell's one. The crowd booed at Attell for holding in a clinch. Attell, backing away, motioned for Kilbane to come on, to which the Clevelander responded with a left to the jaw. Round even.

Round 5—Attell's left eye was swollen and nearly closed. Kilbane kept hammering at it. Attell continually clinched and held on. The spectators yelled to him to fight. Kilbane backed off still hammering at Attell's sore eye. The round, which was even, ended with the lads clinched.

Round 6—Kilbane twice jabbed Attell's bad eye. He then rushed to be stopped by a stiff left to the mouth. Attell's first hard blow. They exchanged long arm jabs. Kilbane reached and received a left to the jaw. The balance of the round was a clinch with honors even.

Round 7—Attell forced the fighting. He put a left to the jaw and Kilbane backing away retaliated with left and right to the face. Kilbane nearly upset the champion with a left to the jaw. Attell put a left to the wind. In a clinch they exchanged hard body blows. At the bell each was smiling. Attell had a shade.

Round 8—Kilbane chased Attell all over the ring, but did not land. Attell dropped his hands and leaned against the ropes, smiling. Kilbane dashed in, put left and right to the head and then left and another right, starting the blood from Attell's mouth. Attell seemed tired. His face was swollen while the Cleveland boy bore no mark. In a clinch Kilbane jumped back and staggered the champion with a terrific left to the jaw. Kilbane's round.

Round 9—They clinched and Kilbane put a left to the wind. After they broke Attell rushed and tried hard to land on the wind but failed. Then he tried to head the lads fought for the wind the challenger having a shade the better of it. Kilbane's round.

Round 10—Both rushed and Attell got a bad left on the mouth. Kilbane then put a right to the ribs. In a clinch Kilbane landed four right in succession to the jaw without a return. The champion clinched and was hissed for holding and butting. Then much to the amusement of the crowd, Attell complained to the referee that Kilbane was holding. Kilbane's round.

Round 11—Attell came in with head down. He landed left to the ribs. The blow seemed low for which he was warned. Each appeared to slow down. Attell landed right to the jaw. Kilbane put several blows to the ribs and Attell again held on. Honors even.

Round 12—The fighters rushed into a clinch. Kilbane landed a left on the jaw at the break. Attell was wild in his lads. "Golly, Kid, you are hard to hit," he said to Kilbane. The latter ran into it hard right to the jaw, but countered with left and right to the ribs. Round even.

Round 13—Attell put a hard right to the jaw. Kilbane then pushed Attell nearly through the ropes. "You knocked Rivers out. Didn't you?" Attell exclaimed to his opponent. "Well, make it so." Just as Attell said two Kilbane landed a hard left on the jaw which ended Attell's remarks. Kilbane's speed seemed to worry Attell. Kilbane landed left and right to the face and as the bell rang the lads were head to head exchanging punches. Kilbane's round.

Round 14—Kilbane forcing two fighting landed hard left on the nose and the champion winced and they clinched. An exchange of long range jabs followed and then, in a clinch, Kilbane brought a roar from the spectators by initiating the "Texas Tommy" around the referee. He then let go left and right to the face. Kilbane's round.

Round 15—Attell showed a burst of his speed by getting out of a hole, but an instant later Kilbane put two lefts to his sore eye. As they clinched a spectator yelled to Attell that his face was greasy. "Well, it's coming out of me, I'm a Jew," smilingly retorted the champion. Kilbane landed a right on the ribs. Kilbane's round.

Round 16—Kilbane rushed and began a tattoo on the face of Referee Epton grabbed Attell and motioned Kilbane to his corner. Taking a towel the referee rubbed the grease from Attell's body. Kilbane again rushed, ducked an uppercut and landed left to the jaw. Then with a right he rocked Attell's head. Head to head Kilbane rained blow after blow on Attell's body. As they clinched Attell butted Kilbane over the eye, making him bleed profusely. The spectators jumped to their feet and began hissing both Attell and Referee Epton. Kilbane's round.

Round 17—Both fought furiously. Attell complained of Kilbane's holding, was himself warned not to use his head again. In a clinch Kilbane got in three blows on one from his opponent. Abe seemed to realize that he must make a strong finish and rushed, but was met every time with straight lefts. Kilbane clearly outboxed the champion. At close quarters Kilbane nearly lifted the champion off his feet with a right to the stomach. Kilbane's round.

Round 18—It was a clinch and break with neither lads doing any damage. After a minute of this kind of work, Kilbane slipped away and then rocked Attell's head with a left. Attell missed twice and jumped into a clinch. He was tired and looked worried. The round ended with both in a clinch, but doing no damage.

Round 19—Both were weary. Kilbane leading first. He went back in his corner and when Attell rushed he dodged a right and sent a stinging left to Attell's ribs. The spectators now were yelling wildly for Kilbane. Attell jumped to a clinch and was pushed half way across the ring. As they broke Kilbane landed his left on the head and the champion looked more worried. They clinched and the referee, in trying to break them, got Kilbane's left fist on the jaw. Kilbane's round.

Featherweight Champion.
Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 22.—Two years ago Johnny Kilbane, the new featherweight champion, scarcely was known outside of Cleveland. He had been a contestant in minor bouts since 1905, but it was not until the fighting game opened in several Ohio towns in the winter of 1910 that he really began to attract attention.

First Kilbane met and defeated the best boys of his vicinity. Then importations were made from the east and west. When Tom McCarey in 1910, promulgated his elimination contest at Los Angeles by which was to be decided who of the native featherweights should have the right to meet Abe Attell for the championship he was a logical entrant. Kilbane decisively defeated Joe Rivers, Patsy Kline and Frankie Conley, his closest rivals, thus earning the right to meet Attell in the battle for the championship.

Johnny Kilbane was born and reared in Cleveland. He will be 23 years old on April 18. He is married and has a baby daughter, Marie Coletta. His habits are of the best. He is a strict church member and is devoted to his family. He is the support of his blind father.

UNITED MINE WORKERS OF STATEMAY MAKE CHANGES TO PRE-VENT DIFFICULTIES.More Power Will Then Be Placed In Hands of President—Walker Renews His Attack on Supreme Court Judges.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—Resolutions asking for abolishment of the state executive board and redistricting of the state into sub-districts, are in the hands of the constitutional committee, which will probably make its report to the convention of the United Mine Workers of Illinois to-morrow.

The plan is advocated by President John Walker, who holds that difficulties with the operators can more easily be adjusted under it. At present difficulties are first taken up with the local and sub-district officers and in cases of appeal with the state executive board. Under the new plan the president of each sub-district will be an ex-officio member of the executive board, and should an appeal be taken from his decision, he would be able to handle the matter directly with the other members of the executive board.

The question of holding elections biennially instead of annually will also probably come up for consideration.

Renews Attack on Judges.

President Walker this morning renewed his attack on the supreme court judges. The attack came as the result of an editorial which appeared in a local newspaper this morning, which considered the president's criticism of the judges as somewhat too strong. President Walker said:

"Those of you who know about the cases in the southern part of the state and know what the present judge, Judge McVickers, said when the decision was rendered in that court, know that the coal miners or any other workers cannot get an unbiased decision from him in any case at any time."

After a short session this morning the convention adjourned to allow the various committees time to dispose of their work and prepare their reports.

Scale Committee.

The scale committee met this afternoon and will probably present a partial report to-morrow. This committee has the framing of the wage agreement. No important changes in the agreement are contemplated at this time, however, except that the men are to be allowed to purchase powder in the market instead of at the mine.

Members of the scale committee from the various districts are:

First and second districts—Robert Osborn, Coal City; William Hutton, Cotton Hill; Joseph Yearwood, Spring Valley; George Padgett, Streator; Alex Stewart, Turino; Henry Hawthorne, Standard; R. A. McAllister, Fairbury.

THE BRANDT CASE

Governor's Decision to Suspend Action Will Not Interfere With Illegal Sentence Proceedings.

New York, Feb. 22.—As far as could be learned tonight the decision of Governor Dix to suspend action in the case of Foulke E. Brandt, former valet of Banker Mortimer L. Schiff, will not interfere with proceedings here to determine whether Brandt's thirty year sentence for burglary was illegal. In view of the announcement by District Attorney Whitman that he would appeal from the decision of Justice Gerard sustaining the writ of habeas corpus applied for in behalf of Brandt, final disposition of the case seems far distant owing to the delay sure to result.

Meanwhile it is expected Brandt will be released tomorrow on $5,000 bail, which a surety company stands ready to furnish.

That the grand jury investigating to determine whether there was a conspiracy against Brandt will go on as assumed tonight. It was reported today that this investigation had so far progressed that the jury had voted in favor of indicting one person but had not in hand as yet the necessary evidence to indict another, two persons at least being required to enter into a conspiracy.

Scale Committee.

The scale committee met this afternoon and will probably present a partial report to-morrow. This committee has the framing of the wage agreement. UNION LEAGUE
CELEBRATIONSVIRTUES OF THE FIRST PRES-IDENT EXTOLLED.Speakers of the Meetings Were French Ambassador Jusserand and Jacob A. Riis—Many Other Meetings Held.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—The most pretentious of the meetings in celebration of Washington's birthday here was a series planned by the Union League club today and staged in the Auditorium theater at which the character and virtues of the first president of the republic were extolled. The meeting was addressed by Adrien Antoine Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States, who took for his subject, "What France was for Washington; what Washington was for France."

The second meeting was a celebration by Americans of all nationalities and speakers, Jacob A. Riis, talked on the theme, "Citizenship and What It Means."

The speakers of the day were scheduled to respond to toasts at an evening banquet at the Union League club. Many other organizations and societies also held meetings in commemoration of the birth of Washington. In the morning address Ambassador Jusserand reviewed the colonial and revolutionary times and called attention to the part played by France in the early development of the country and the effect which association with Frenchmen had upon Washington.

Jusserand's Closing Words.

In closing, Ambassador Jusserand spoke of the work of Washington in favor of peace and said:

"On this matter of such paramount importance, not only to your country and mine, we may, I hope, consider in France that our Republic would deserve the approval of the departed leader. In my diplomatic career of over thirty-five years, I consider as one of the happiest occurrences in it to have been able to sign with the United States on the 10th of February, 1908, the treaty of arbitration that has been duly ratified."

The afternoon meeting was the second annual gathering of "Americans of all nationalities and first voters" to celebrate the day.

Necessity of Law and Order.

Mr. Riis told of the necessity of law and order and dwelt on the struggle which gave birth to the nation. In closing he said:

"Washington's words ring as true today as a hundred years ago and we need to heed to their warning as soberly. Ever let us remember that liberty is not license but respect for other man's rights as the basis of insistence upon our own. So shall we honor the freedom we prize."

STORY OF ABUSEATTEMPT MADE TO DRUG, IM-PRISON AND MURDER HIM.

Witness Tells Story as Related to Him When He Visited Kimmel in Prison—Depositions of Residents of Niles in His Favor.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 22.—The Kimmel claimant story of an attempt to drug, imprison and finally to murder George A. Kimmel because of his refusal to buy stolen express bonds in Arkansas City, Kans., in 1898, was told to the jury in the United States district court this afternoon in the hearing of the Kimmel case by William P. Lardner, of Duluth, Minn., a witness for the defense.

Lardner said the story which he repeated was told to him by the Kimmel claimant when he visited Auburn, N. Y., prison in 1910. He referred to the claimant as George A. Kimmel. The story was the first attempt which has been made by the defense to supply a motive for the abuse to which the claimant says he was subjected.

"He told me that a man introduced by a letter from his uncle," testified the witness, "asked him to buy stolen express bonds and when he refused he was ordered to Kansas City, where he was called from a hotel and taken to a rooming house by the man who called for him."

MONEY TRUST A VAGARY.

Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 22.—A. O. Wilson of the State National bank of St. Louis, addressing members of the Iowa bankers' association here today, declared that the so-called money trust was a vagary, at which all bankers smiled. Mr. Wilson advised the bankers to become active in politics and assure the election of good men to office. He said the trouble with business today was uncertainty because of the unknown quantity of future legislation.

Action Taken on Several Matters of Interest at Regular Session Held Last Night.

The regular weekly meeting of the Trades and Labor Assembly was held Thursday night with a good attendance of members. Reports were read from various committees.

The dance committee reported the annual assembly dance a great success. The Bakers' delegates asked all union men to ask for the label when purchasing bread as several bakers were not putting the label on their bread. A press committee was appointed consisting of L. P. A communication was read relative to the Textile workers' trouble in Lawrence, Mass., stating that men and women there were in need of help. The assembly donated $10.00 for this purpose. In the appeal the men at Lawrence even asked for penny contributions, so great was the need.

A communication was read from the Brotherhood of Railway clerks, asking for assistance in organizing in Jacksonville. The matter will be looked into.

A communication was read from the union in Portland, Ore., asking that all laboring men stay away from the city at present, for there were 10,000 idle men, and many were in need of something to eat and their families in destitute circumstances. A communication was also read from a flour agent commending the union for patronizing certain brands of flour.

Are You Sure of Two Things About Your Milk?

First:—That it comes from healthy cows.

Second:—That it is kept clean after it comes from the cows—is it bottled under sanitary conditions and not near some barn or on the street?

There is only one way in Jacksonville to know this—use only pasteurized milk and cream from the Jacksonville Creamery Co., the cleanest and most sanitary bottling plant in the city. Call and inspect. Telephone your order.

REVIVALS STILL 1 DRAW CROWDS

Pastor Spoon's and Alkre Are on Firing Line Against Sin—Music a Specialty at Both Churches Last Night.

Large audiences continue to attend the revivals which are being conducted at Northminster and Brooklyn churches. Last night the real revival spirit was manifest in both churches and expressed itself in the singing by the audience and in the attention accorded the ministers as they battled their manebans against sin and the devil. Special musical numbers also figured prominently in the services last evening.

At Northminster.
In his preliminary remarks last night, Rev. W. E. Spoon's paid a tribute to the business men of Jacksonville, saying that he had never been in a place where more of the business men were allied with Christ and the church. The pastor's sermon was entitled "No Room For Christ in Jacksonville," and it was certainly one of the most powerful sermons delivered by the ex-cowboy evangelist in this city. In a striking manner he presented the glaring fact that certain conditions show that men find no room for Christ in their thoughts, in their conversation, their business or their amusements. There is, it seems, no room for the Master of men in literature and even in many churches. The Lord is kept out of many families and he is crowded out of men's hearts. The text was Luke 2:17—"There was no room for them in the inn."

The musical numbers consisted of a violin duet by Miss Minnie Hoffman and Dudley Hitt, a bass solo by Walter C. Vieira, and a number by the Orphean quartet with a solo part by Dr. Magill. The evening prayer was made by Rev. L. H. Davis of Westminster church.

Rev. Mr. Spoon's will preach to night on "Herod's Ball Room" and he promises a special message to men.

Brooklyn Meetings.

Rev. Mr. Alkre was assisted in the revival at Brooklyn last night by several Methodist ministers. Rev. O. H. Meyers of Chandlerville made the opening prayer, Rev. J. A. Biddle led in a splendid song service. Rev. A. A. White conducted the altar services and Rev. W. S. Phillips pronounced the benediction. There was a splendid spirit shown throughout. The singing was especially good and several special numbers added interest.

The trio composed of Alex Campbell, T. H. Rapp and Rev. W. S. Phillips sang "Drifting" and "Lead Me Gently Home" and Miss Bessie Read rendered a beautiful violin number. The pastor preached on "The Boy Prodigal," giving a splendid interpretation of the story amid modern surroundings and driving home the one great lesson that is to be taught from it with force and power. When the invitation was extended two men and a lady went forward and a number in the audience asked for the prayers of the Christian people. Two persons also united with the church.

Rev. W. S. Phillips will preach at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the hour being changed from 2:30 on account of the funeral of Elmer Sandberg which will be held in the church at 2 o'clock. To night Rev. Mr. Alkre will preach on "Why I Believe in a General Judgment" and Harold Johnson's orchestra will play.

Prayer meetings will be held this morning in the following homes: Mrs. Anna Ranson, 1701 South Main street.

C. A. Sheppard, 1010 South Clay avenue.

STATE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Most Successful Meeting in History of Organization.

Centerville, Ill., Feb. 22.—The most successful meeting in the history of the Illinois Farmer's Institute was brought to a close here late today. Resolutions favoring parcels post, the revision of state highway law and supervision of county bridge construction by the state highway commission were adopted. Livestock was the principal subject discussed at today's sessions of the institute. Prof. Stephens A. Forbes, state etomologist, delivered an address on the "clinch bug."

The department of household science closed its meeting equally successfully. Miss Miriam Beatty delivered the principal address. Her subject was "how school work can be more closely related to home needs."

Mrs. Jeannette Miller of Springfield talked on "The body, God's temple."

Amos McCrory of Murrayville is visiting at the home of his uncle, G. H. Harney on West Morgan street.

ARRESTED FOR DISTURBING PEACE.

George E. Aman, alias "Whitey," of Franklin, was arraigned in Squire Dyer's court Thursday on the charge of disturbing the peace. Aman is said to have conducted himself in such a manner last Sunday evening as to have disturbed the peace of a number of the citizens of Franklin. He was arrested Wednesday by Constable Crum. Aman pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5 and costs. Upon failure to pay fine he was committed to the county jail.

The Peacock Inn orchestra went to White Hall Wednesday to play at a club dance given in that city.

The Art of Building

Do you expect to live in your house when you build it—spend the rest of your days in it and leave to your children, a more valuable property than when you built it?

The Right Materials

You know not how unwise it is to use poor materials, and so the real "art in building" is in choosing the best lumber, the best of everything which enters into the constructive work. If you want to build in a way that will stand the test of time we can solve the LUMBER question for you.

MAIDS AND MATRONS

Colonial Play is Successfully Given by Students at the Woman's College.

Washington's birthday was appropriately celebrated yesterday at the Woman's college, concluding in the evening by a colonial play entitled, "Maids and Matrons," written by Grace B. Faxon and given under the direction of Miss Kidder.

The students enjoyed a half holiday and the afternoon was used in fixing up colonial costumes. At 6 o'clock dinner was served and the national colors were in evidence everywhere. In the center of the dining room table was a miniature fort covered with tiny flags and for place cards each had a tiny gun. At 7 o'clock the grand march was made through Music hall, where the play was presented. There was a fair audience present and all were delighted with the evening's entertainment. The costumes were especially pretty and appropriate and the entire day will be pleasantly recalled.

The following was the cast of characters:

Mrs. Phillips, mistress of Phillips Manor—Louise Marshall.
Susannah Phillips, her elder daughter—afterward Mrs. Robinson—Mona Summers.
Mary Phillips, younger daughter—afterward Mrs. Morris—Jane Bacon.

Possibilities of Translation.

An English writer made an experiment once of the gain and loss of translation.

I heard that I would write my "life" when I gave up my breath.

I felt that this indeed would add a new delight to death.

This was translated into another language, then from that into another, and so on until a dozen versions had been made. Of course there was a different translator each time. The last version reads as follows:

Dear, in my song you still shall live. Though under earth you lie. Ah, had you now that grace to give I should not need to die!

The Sewing Machine.

Did you know a lighter match or taper would do wonders with the sewing machine? Try it some day. Light a candle or just a match and apply it to different parts of the wheels and cogs. Lints and threads will burn, the char can be wiped off, and the machine will run twice as easily.

When a machine gets it is advisable to remove the head, place it in a tub and cover with gasoline. It makes a new machine from an old one.

Heroic War Measures.

Chuka, a great African native chief, trained a powerful army which was famous in war. If a regiment was beaten to the king's palace, if any man lost his weapon in war he was killed for cowardice. If the chief wanted to see what kind of weapons were most successful he would order a sham fight with them in which real lives would be lost.

Worse Than the Ten Ten.

"Only the upper ten go to your church, don't they?" inquired the plain person.

"Yes," replied the organist of the swell church, "but they're not a circumstance to the uppin' tenor in our choir."—Philadelphia Press.

Renting Houses

Fifteen years experience as the only Agency in Jacksonville making a specialty of renting houses, has given us much information that is of value to our clients. We have learned how to write a contract that will insure the payment of the rent when due. In five years we have not lost a full month's rent on any house. We know what consideration is due to the tenants; they say we are "good landlords," and our houses are full when others are empty. Only those who do not want to pay their rent dislike us. We have an enormous rent list, but very few vacant houses today. We can be of real service to you in renting yours. Won't you let us do so?

SOCIAL EVENTS.

One of the many delightful social meetings of Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, D. A. R., was the one held Thursday afternoon at the home of the Misses Dummer on West College avenue. The birthday of Washington each year is celebrated by the chapter and while in previous years the event has been commemorated with a musicale or a program of some sort, the affair this year took on the nature of a Washington party. There were about one hundred ladies present. In the receiving line with the Misses Dummer were Miss Effie Eppler, regent of the chapter; Miss Phoebe Dummer of Chicago, and the following who comprise the program committee: Miss Frances Wood, Mrs. Gates Strawn, Miss Florence Ward, Miss Anna Clayton, Mrs. Miller Weir, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse and Mrs. James T. King.

The Dummer home was beautifully decorated. Flags were used in great profusion and with pleasing effect and pictures of George and Martha Washington were a noticeable part of the decoration. Two portraits more than one hundred and fifty years old and belonging to Mrs. Mary Dunlap, who loaned them to the D. A. R. for this occasion, were given a conspicuous place and were beautifully draped in colonial colors. A large cherry tree reaching as high as the ceiling of the room and with its limbs loaded down with huge bunches of red cherries served not only as a most attractive and appropriate decoration but was also made use of in the entertainment of the guests. Miss Eppler, the regent, announced to the company that since the society had been very industrious the past year in bringing to light records of ancestry and in other pursuits, the afternoon would be given over to a relaxation and the time would be spent in playing around George Washington's favorite tree. Each lady was blindfolded and given scissors and after being turned around several times was told to go to the tree and cut from its branches a cluster of cherries. After the pruning was over and the guests had compared the results of their efforts, it was found that Mrs. J. G. Ames had taken from the tree a cluster of forty-seven cherries, the largest of the lot. She was awarded a Washington hatchet, which was filled with candy cherries. Elegant refreshments were served in the dining room, which was attractively decorated with jaffodils. Miss Grace Dummer presided at the coffee urn and others assisting in the serving were Mrs. James T. King, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse and Miss Phoebe Dummer. The refreshments committee was composed of Miss Mary Dummer, Mrs. J. T. King and Mrs. Miller Weir.

Delegations From Adjoining Cities Attend Red Men Initiation Last Night—Program and Banquet Followed.

Large delegations from Hannibal, Springfield, Beardstown, Pearl, Virginia, Manchester and other neighboring cities were in Jacksonville Thursday night to attend the great pow-wow at the wigwam of Delaware tribe. Carroll, Charles Spires, Earl Reid, T. M. Walsh, George W. Tandy, John P. Meany, Arthur C. Franz, C. F. Doyling, H. M. Buland and Newton Flynn. The marriage of Samuel C. Keir and Miss Florence B. Evans was consummated Tuesday forenoon, Feb. 20, at 11:30 o'clock at the rural home of the bride's father, David Evans, in the vicinity of Sinclair. The guests were the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties. The Rev. Dr. P. A. McCarty, pastor of Centenary church in Jacksonville, in his impressive and happy manner pronounced the solemn words which made them husband and wife. The bride was Miss Florence Smith and Charles R. Evans, the latter a brother of the bride. The bridal party entered the parlor and took their position in front of the minister while listening to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, as rendered on the piano by Mrs. Will Keir. The bride was attired in a gown of blue messaline trimmed with blue silk over lace drape and beads. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor wore a becoming dress of cream colored mohair. The color scheme in the parlor was white and red and the dining room was tastefully decorated in pink and white.

Following the ceremony and congratulation, a sumptuous dinner with turkey and all the accessories that go to make an enjoyable feast was served. Many useful and beautiful presents were received by the newly wedded pair and they will be long treasured as souvenirs of a happy event. The bride is a lady of rare attainments and her friendly and happy nature has endeared her to a large circle of sincere friends who will wish for her a happy and useful married life.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Keir, residing in the vicinity of Woodson, and he is well known as an industrious and honorable young man who has the confidence of all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Mr. and Mrs. Keir will be at home on a farm in the vicinity of Sinclair in the course of a few days.

Engineer and Conductor in Ill-Fated Passenger Undergo Operations—Inquest Held Over Body of Fireman.

An inquest was held Thursday morning at Waverly over the remains of Floyd Schaeffer, who met death in the Burlington wreck at Lowder. The jury was composed of Messrs. F. W. Parkinson, Claude Chumway, Jesse Davenport, Nate Morris and Albert Burns. They blamed no one for the wreck, but gave in a verdict "that the deceased came to his death in a railroad accident, on account of snowstorm." The inquest was held by Coroner Clarence Rodes of Springfield.

The remains were sent to Beardstown yesterday morning and funeral services will take place probably Sunday. The remains were accompanied by Leroy Franks of Beardstown an uncle of the deceased.

Undergo Operations.
Two of the men who were brought here, at Passavant hospital, underwent operations Thursday. Engineer Mark Lyman had his skull trephined and he appears to be holding his own well, although it is difficult to tell the extent of his injury.

Conductor A. J. Frazier underwent an operation on his head. His skull was not fractured, but his head injuries are deep and he is really a very sick man.

Brakeman Frank Overman has a dislocated shoulder. When the wreck occurred, although injured greatly, he walked a mile to Lowder to have the story wired of the wreck. While in the depot he collapsed and they put him in a freight caboose and he came to Jacksonville later than the other injured people, on the superintendent's special car, as did a number of passengers.

Baggage men Bates and Ballard Woods were the less injured and will be around in a few days.

MISSIONARY RALL

All Day Session to be Held at Central Christian Church With Speakers of Prominence in Attendance.

The members of the party who are to hold the missionary rally today at the Central Christian church are an interesting company and men of wide experience.

E. W. Allen of Kansas City, Mo., heads the company. He is a wide awake, aggressive young man who has had a successful career as pastor of several churches like those at Fort Wayne, Ind., and Wichita, Kan. He was called to be secretary of the Foreign Christian Missionary society because of his pre-eminent ability as a platform speaker and his fitness for this work. Since that time he has been a power in arousing interest in and developing the missionary activities amongst the disciples of Christ. Besides covering the United States he has travelled extensively in Europe, Palestine and Egypt. The head of the Laymen's Missionary movement in this section has written the Central church, congratulating them upon having the opportunity of hearing Dr. Allen.

Charles P. Hodges has just returned from the Congo. He has been the practical man of the missionary force there. He has had charge of the printing press. He has directed the building of several buildings. He has preached when he had time. He comes from one of the greatest mission stations in the world. To speak of a social settlement amongst the cannibal tribes in the interior of Africa seems almost an anomaly; yet that is the very work which has engaged this young man for years. His story of the transformed lives of these savages is almost beyond belief.

H. P. Shaw, known to so many in this section, is fresh from China, where for eight years he has been engaged in the educational work that at last is making the celestial empire a progressive nation. Any man who can speak from observation of conditions where under our very eyes the greatest republic ever formed in point of numbers affected—in fact with a population greater than all the republics hitherto established in the world put together, any such man deserves a hearing. Mr. Shaw will deliver his strongest message here in his home country and to the people who have paid his support while on the foreign field. And many favorable comments upon the greatness of his message come from those who have heard him.

The men are anticipating a royal good time when at the supper time they hear from these pioneers' own lips the story of their hardships and dangers and successes. And the night session is attracting large attention, with its bright new stereopticon and moving pictures and short addresses by the missionaries. But the rally will be held all day, the sessions commencing at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. The ladies of the church will serve luncheon and supper to any who may wish to eat with them, thus affording the largest possible opportunity to meet the members of the party.

Arrow collars will fit the new Arrow shirt like no other make of collar will.

SAMUEL GREELEY SMITH DEAD.

Los Angeles, Feb. 22.—Samuel Greeley Smith, 80 years old, a first cousin of Horace Greeley and of United States Senator Sullivan of New Hampshire, died today at the National Soldiers' Home, where he had lived for many years.

IN MEXICAN CITY.

Daughter of Governor Wilson and Girl Friend Marooned.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 22.—Miss Nellie Wilson, the 20-year-old daughter of Governor Wilson of New Jersey, and Miss Kitchner, a girl friend, are marooned at Madera, Chihuahua, according to advices received here tonight. The young women have been the guests of the family of P. A. Hatt-hins, manager of a large lumber camp at Madera.

The same advices state that last night the town of Madera declared in favor of Antonio Iturbide, the rebel leader, and in celebrating the event a large part of the Mexican quarter was burned.

Wilson Not Alarmed.

Topeka, Feb. 22.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, who spoke here tonight at the Kansas Democratic club banquet, when shown the despatch from El Paso concerning his daughter's retention at Madera, Mexico, said that while she is visiting there, it is for an indefinite time, and she had no intention of coming home soon, according to word received from her a few days ago.

"It is all nonsense that she is marooned," Governor Wilson said. "It is not true that I have made any demands upon anyone to give my daughter and her friend a safe passage to this country. Such an idea is ridiculous. I have heard of no trouble in Mexico where they are, and do not believe they are in danger. I shall take no steps in the matter. I shall, at least, wait until I hear from her."

QUINCY COMES IN PLACE OF ROODHOUSE

District Basketball Tournament Will Open Today With Sixteen Teams Competing.

The district basketball tournament will open today for a two days' contest to decide the representative for the state tournament. Roodhouse informed Principal Stoops late Thursday that on account of some differences they would not send a team and almost at the same time Quincy wired to come into this district tournament and a telegram was sent back saying "come on," which will make the sixteen teams as originally stated.

As previously announced the drawing will take place this morning in Strawn's hall at 10:30 o'clock, each team having a representative to draw. Four games will be played this afternoon commencing at 1:30 o'clock and four at night, commencing at 7 o'clock. Then on Saturday morning commencing at 8 o'clock there will be four games, two in the afternoon and at night the championship contest which will probably be preceded by a curtain raiser.

New baskets have been put in the hall and arrangements have been made for the players to occupy the seats in the balcony. New lines have also been painted on the floor. The members of the Pittsfield team arrived in the city last night.

The officials will be: Referee—O. S. Storm. Umpire—Ralph Tenny. Scorekeeper—Prof. Bate. Timekeeper—Prof. Cook. Manager—Prim. R. O. Stoops. Asst. manager—William Allcott.

On account of the inclemency of the weather the sale of the lands of the late John W. Corrington has been postponed until Saturday, Feb. 24, 1912, at 1 p. m.

WASHINGTON HIS SUBJECT

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY CONGRESSMAN UNDERWOOD.

Contents Washington Did Not Foresee All Perplexing Problems With Which Present Generation Has to Deal.

Philadelphia, Feb. 22. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, delivered an address in this city to night at the annual banquet of the State Society of the Cincinnati. His subject was George Washington, and he said in part:

"Washington did not foresee all the perplexing problems with which we have to deal to day, in our tariff or in our great corporations, in our currency, in our foreign possessions, or in a reconciliation of the rights of labor and capital; he did not foresee the vast task we all have, whether native or foreign born, of taking the new material constantly coming to our shores and assimilating it into our growth and moulding it into a loyal and intelligent support of our institutions; he did not see the menace of destructive Socialism, nor the extent to which, unfortunately, we were to go in substituting party interest for political principle, though as to this he gave us paternal warning. Nevertheless he did foresee sufficient of our problems to be able to commend to us a course the principles of which, if steadily adhered to, should bring us safely through all the perils to which we may be exposed. While he did not outline the by-laws, so to speak, that must from time to time, be framed and adopted for the detailed life of this country, he did understand, as no one else understood, the organic principles upon which we were to rest the security and the welfare of our national life. And subject always to his urgent advice against permanent alliances with foreign powers, like a high priest among men, he preached the gospel of tolerance, of benevolence, of peace, of reasonableness and of righteousness towards all peoples.

"Washington's distinguishing common sense and practical turn of mind served him well in the administration of his high office. Few, if any, mere generalities or quixotic schemes or action were suggested by him; on the contrary, he seemed to be master of the underlying principles of the business needs of the country as he had been of the plans of his campaigns. At a time when so many of us are disposed to put upon the statute books nostrums for relief from our industrial and financial and economic evils, it will be well for us to call to mind the striking contrast between the moderate volume and temperate character of laws enacted during his presidency and so much of our present day legislation of the experimental sort, reflecting often merely a view of to day that is likely to be the heresy of tomorrow, and attempting to deal with the objectionable before it is seen that it will not be arrested of itself, or before we have sufficient understanding of it to be in a position to know or apply the appropriate remedy. Accordingly the recommendations and the legislation of Washington's administration were not along guess work lines; but the elements of soberness, patience and wisdom which he so invariably manifested were typical of the plans he favored and adopted to bring order out of financial and industrial chaos, promote industry among the people and restore their energies by opening up new sources of revenue and prosperity, and by assuring men that they should gather and be secure in the possession of the harvest of their labor.

"There is a great need too for us in this day when constitutional restraint has become irksome to many, never to turn a deaf ear to the stirring appeal of Washington to his people—that the departments into which our government is constitutionally divided shall be kept within their respective boundaries. Speaking here not as a party man, but as a citizen of the republic, my observation and reflection have shown me how treacherously easy is the transition from centralization of government—which those of the Republican party set so much store by and which a good many of us Democrats are inclined to acquiesce in—to a personification of government and then to usurpation of government. Washington in all his career uttered no greater truth than when he declared that a constitutional government, under such circumstances, became almost, as a matter of course, a despotism. For a long time, fortunately, this was the view of the American people; and when they have departed from it a long and ominous step has been taken, not only in the commission of error, but towards establishing evil precedent.

"We have, however, problems of a serious nature confronting us for solution, and doubtless they will increase as time goes on. We, as people, have tolerated the doing of things which must be undone or made right and not condoned; we have at times set too much store by mere material success and judged minor consequences things which broaden and elevate and enoble a nation; we have made compromise with things of evil import. We have, at times, been unmindful of the rights of others as we have hurried on to the realization of ambitious plans; and, in our indifference to the demands of good citizenship, we have been guilty of or acquiesced in a course of conduct that has given rise to sullen expressions of an unrest to which we cannot afford to be unconcerned listeners; for unchecked unrest is likely to breed discontent and discontent in its turn disorder. And, unless we frankly recognize this, we shall have no reasonable hope of correcting the conditions which arouse, if they do not altogether justify those expressions, and which are a menace not only to our continuing prosperity, but to our self respect and our repute in the world. Again and again, as time goes on, in obedience to popular clamor, we shall be tempted to enact statutes unjust to labor or capital and not representing reflection and conviction, or statutes which are fairly certain to be incapable of enforcement and to bring the administration of the law into contempt. We shall be tempted to hesitate and temporize concerning things demanding prompt and courageous action for the public welfare. Again and again we shall stand poised in which direction to go when we shall have come to the cross-roads of public duty and mere party expediency or even self-interest; our way will be so shut in by doubt that we shall hesitate even as to a single step forward and upward. But there is one thing above all things to which we may cling with a certain faith—that so long as we keep with ourselves a covenant to return to and abide by the principles of Washington's Farewell Address; so long as we shall set his life and his devotion before us as the best type and example of American citizenship; so long as we shall emulate his countryman's faith in the future of the end come short of its high mission in the world. For then, during all times to come, we shall have for our political guidance as a people the inspiration of his presence, which will be to us what, for the moral guidance of men, the Word of the Lord was to the Psalmist of old—a lamp unto the feet and light unto the path."

APPEAL FOR MORE WATER.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—The sanitary district of Chicago will appeal to the secretary of war at Washington on February 28 for permission to pump 10,000 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan for the purpose of diluting sewage in the district. It was announced today that officials of the sanitary district, the mayor of Chicago, the city commissioner of public works and Illinois congressmen would present the appeal to the secretary of war. ## WILSON IN KANSAS

New Jersey Governor Talked to Large Gathering of Democrats at Topeka.

Topeka, Kans., Feb. 22.—The coming of Woodrow Wilson to Kansas and his speech to night at the banquet of the Kansas Democratic club brought out one of the largest gatherings of Democrats here since the visit of William Jennings Bryan in 1905.

Governor Wilson arrived this morning and the afternoon was spent in holding an informal reception. Long before the day was over every available seat at the banquet table had been taken and demands for more were turned down. The banquet was held at Masonic hall, one of the largest halls in the city, and it proved too small to accommodate all who wanted to hear the guest of honor.

Democratic leaders were present to day from all over the state, and though many meetings and conferences were held, no movement for the endorsement of any candidate for Democratic nomination for president had taken place to night. Governor Wilson will go to Lawrence, Kans., early to morning morning. He will address the students at Kansas university and then go on to St. Louis.

MONOPOLY CHARGED.

Officials of National Cash Register Company Indicted.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 22.—Thirty indictments charging conspiracy to obstruct and monopolize the cash register business in violation of the criminal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law were returned today against officials and sales agents of the National Cash Register company.

At the same time, the first move of the government to prevent violations of the interstate commerce law regulating express charges resulted in an indictment with eleven counts against the Adams Express company. The company was charged with having exacted more than the published rates from shippers. Seven Cincinnati manufacturing concerns were indicted alleged to have violated the interstate commerce law by obtaining low transportation rates through under valuation, and there was nearly a score of minor individual indictments.

The sales methods of the company were the chief causes of the indictments, according to United States District Attorney McPherson, who declared competitors of the company had been harassed out of the field.

Take Up Campaign of Good Roads—
Call Issued for Convention in Chicago, March 16.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Chicago women representing twenty-five of the prominent women's clubs to day issued a call for a state convention of Illinois women to be held here on March 16, to advance the cause of good roads and construction of the Lincoln Memorial highway through the Illinois Valley. The women's road campaign was instituted during a luncheon at a Lake Front hotel, which was the outgrowth of a resolution adopted by the Illinois State Good Roads convention on Lincoln's birthday.

"Women can accomplish a great deal in any civic movement," Mrs. Minerva S. Jones said in addressing those at the luncheon and as good roads affect every section of the state we must have the women can and will give the roadway movement a willing and helpful hand.

"To do this, there should be a state convention of women, where women speakers may discuss plans for women's share in this great work."

REARME OLD CUSTOM.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Alumni and former students of the Old University of Chicago, which preceded the present institution, revived an old custom to night, when they re-established their annual Washington's birthday supper. Members of the class of '86, the last to be graduated from the Old University, were active at the celebration. Through their suggestion, a fund was raised to provide an annuity for Prof. Lewis S. Smart, who was a faculty member at the Old Institution and who now is at Lake Forest College.

SUNDAY THEATERS.

Question Can Be Voted Upon by Voters of Municipality.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—The question of closing the theaters on Sunday is one of public policy and can properly be voted upon by the legal voters of a municipality, according to an opinion to day by attorney general W. H. Stead. The question of opening the theaters at Bloomington has been discussed for some time and those favoring the proposition have asked the city council to submit it to a vote.

According to the law the city officials are required to submit the question upon petition by a certain per cent of the voters, but there is nothing in the law which will compel the members of the council to abide by the result of the election. There is agitation in a number of other Illinois cities for the opening of the theaters on Sunday and it will probably follow Bloomington's example and ask that the people be allowed to vote upon the question.

RECLAMATION OF DRUNKARDS.

Rescue Net Used in New York by Salvation Army.

New York, Feb. 22.—It was "reclamation of drunkards" day in Salvation Army circles in Manhattan today and as the result of casting the rescue net more than a thousand men were dragged away from the saloons and taken to the army headquarters, where they were dined and talked to by the teachers of the army. While there men were being cared for the Salvation Army held a parade in the afternoon, in which a "water wagon" was conspicuous.

Some of the banners carried in the parade read:

"Washington would not lie, whiskey is a liar."

"Don't let the booze help you down and out, cut it."

"Bubbles on top, bitterness at the bottom."

DISTURBS AUDIENCE.
If you have any curiosity about the number of people here who have been just notified the next time you are at church or in any public gathering. You will hear some one coughing almost all the time.

We have said before in this paper that there is an unusual amount of bronchial trouble now, and this is because so many people neglect it.

There is no excuse for letting a cough hang on for months and years. The cure of this fact is that a remedy which cures stubborn cases right along would cure at first if taken then as it should be.

Mrs. E. B. Millard of Middletown, N. Y., says, "Having used Vinol for chronic bronchitis when I have had for three or four years I can recommend it highly. It has given me very satisfactory results."

Take Vinol right away, and it will build you up, and soon your cough it is doing this for thousands of others.

We pay back your money if you are not satisfied with Vinol. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

HELD CELEBRATION

BIRTHDAY OF THE FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY DULY HONORED.

Grand and Brilliant Gathering at the Gymnasium of Illinois College to Do Honor to the Name of Washington.

The gymnasium of Illinois college was the scene of a fine and brilliant gathering Thursday evening for the purpose of paying honor to the name of George Washington, the man whom the country delights to honor. From the balcony depended dozens on which the name was conspicuous, while flags in profusion decked the apartment and on every hand were evidences of loyalty to the land which the great man did so much to found on everlasting principles.

Even the program had minute flags attached to them and each guest had one to be fastened on the clothing during the evening. Behind a screen of flags and bunting the Vickery & Merrigan orchestra discoursed fine and patriotic music, while a brilliant assembly of ladies and gentlemen, the elite of the city and adjacent country, vied with the students in expressions of loyalty to the country and at the same time old Illinois college came in for many kind words.

The whole occasion was most happy and was in keeping with the desire and purpose of the present administration of Illinois college to keep in close touch with the people and have a common interest exist between the institution on the hill and the residents of the adjoining community.

The Banquet.
was the first number on the program and it was all right, well and promptly served and much enjoyed by all at the tables. Vickery & Merrigan were the caterers and they did their duty admirably. Dean Hayden invoked the divine blessing and then all proceeded to do ample justice to the bill of fare provided. The largest part of the guests were seated at the smaller tables, while at the large table sat the special guests of the evening, the orators of the occasion and others.

The Addresses.
After all had enjoyed the good things provided President Rammelkamp called the assembly to order and most happily introduced the first part of the evening program and the toastmaster, Judge Charles A. Barnes.

Judge Barnes spoke most pleasantly of the gathering and remarked on its especial significance and the evident success of the occasion and suggested that it showed there was not a letting down, but a growth in such affairs. We were present to celebrate the birthday of George Washington.

He paid a glowing tribute to the great man who was truly the father of his country and especially commended the object of the occasion as it tended to instill lessons of patriotism in the minds and hearts of the rising generation. The toastmaster also spoke most pleasantly of the college and the students, the faculty, and all connected with it and predicted greater things for the future.

Ray H. Bracewell.
Of the toasts but a short outline is attempted. The first sentiment was "Washington, the Hero," and was assigned to Ray H. Bracewell.

Every nation has its heroes and our own land has many to love, honor and cherish, but of all Washington stands at the head. He occupied an especially honorable position and had there been no revolutionary war still he would have been great for such qualities as he possessed would have shone forth under any circumstances. Most heroes are great in one particular direction and seem to do but one thing in an eminent manner, but Washington was great in many ways. He shone as a patriot, as a soldier, as an advocate of true democracy, as a statesman, an executive.

It takes a truly great man to retire gracefully to private life after he has filled such important positions as those which Washington filled so ably, but in that, too, he shone as in everything else and from the private home he returned to Mount Vernon and there lived as great in private life as he had when the eyes of the world were upon him and watching his every movement.

Gaylen Dugger.
Washington, the strategist, was assigned to Gaylen Dugger. "I. Washington was a man of varied talents and strategy was well developed in his constitution. He showed this in his management of the troops in the disastrous Braddock defeat and in a great many ways. In war, in business, in politics he was a true strategist; never taking any unfair advantage of a weakness or political rival. He nevertheless knew when to use this ability for the best end. Among the savages in perilous times and circumstances his great intellect shone conspicuously as a strategist."

Washington, the master of his own resources, J. C. Monroe '13. As a master of his own resources, Washington shone as in all else. Many men have wonderful abilities, but lack most sadly the ability to use them. This has been demonstrated many times in the history of capitalists or men who have inherited money; men of remarkable ability in many directions, but lacking the power to use what was given them. The great success of Washington as a soldier, statesman, man of business, all show he was truly the master of his own resources.

John M. Phillips.
Washington, the boy, John M. Phillips, '12.

Few writers tell anything of the boyhood, but from the few glimpses we get of his early life, he was a healthy lad and great even then as he was afterward. He was a healthy lad, joining heartily in all the sports and pastimes of his day. The cherry tree incident tells us he was truthful and his vigorous constitution tells that he was a sturdy lad of the olden times.

Miss Genevieve Clark.
Washington, the ladies' man, Miss Genevieve Clark, '13. While Washington shone in war, in peace, in business, in the halls of legislation, he shone no less in the drawing room and was a courtly gentleman whose grand example is well worthy of imitation. He was a ladies' man in the true sense of the word; not a silly beau or empty headed flirt, but a true nature's nobleman adorned by a pure woman and paying her the homage intended by the Creator.

Hon. George W. Wilson.
Hon. George W. Wilson of Quincy was the orator of the evening and favored the great audience with a fine address setting forth the true greatness of the father of his country in glowing colors, yet true life, and from that grand example he drew many lessons for the present generation. He took an optimistic view of the situation and spoke noble words of encouragement predicting still greater things for our beloved land.

With a few well chosen remarks the toastmaster commented on the addresses of the occasion and the exercises were at an end and were voted by all a grand success.

HONORED MEMORY

Public Schools Hold Exercises Appropriate to celebration of Washington's Birthday.

According to an annual custom the public school yesterday held exercises appropriate to the celebration of Washington's birthday.

At High School. The principal address at the high school was given by Principal R. O. Stoops. He worked out the thought that Puritans gave America both Washington and Lincoln. Washington was the descendant from John Washington, a cavalier who fought under Charles I and after Parliament won John and Lawrence Washington left England on account of the Puritan prosecution and came to this country. Abraham Lincoln was a descendant from Samuel Lincoln, of Puritan descent who came to America when Charles I was deposed. He showed that Washington early attained leadership and maintained it.

Rev. Clyde Darsie Speaks. Rev. Clyde Darsie was the principal speaker at the Franklin school. He showed how Washington had learned to take defeat bravely, which was a great lesson. His fairness as a boy, early taught him to be an arbitrator, which qualification he worked out in his entire life. A number of patriotic songs were sung during the exercises.

Jefferson School. Interesting exercises were held at the Jefferson school, where the principal address was given by Rev. P. A. McCarty. He spoke along the line of Washington being a truthful boy, a brave soldier, a wise president and a noble man. From these four facts the speaker drew a forceful lesson.

Maxims of Washington—Sixth grade pupils. Violin solo—Eloise Capps. Address on George Washington—Rev. J. W. Spoons. Song by school—"Mount Vernon Bells."

Rev. Mr. Spoons dwelt upon the splendid character of Washington, showing that the elements which entered into his makeup were (1) his home training; (2) his determination to win; (3) his reliance in hard work; (4) his education; and (5) his intense vigor. The qualities of Washington's character, said Rev. Mr. Spoons, were his modesty, his sublimity, his perseverance, his determination, his undaunted courage, great patriotism, absolute integrity and faith in God. The Washington maxim, "It is better to be alone than in bad company," was strongly impressed upon the children.

In Eighth Grade. S. W. Nichols was the speaker at the eighth grade. He delighted the children with a number of customs and events of Washington's early life that are seldom heard of and he illustrated his talk by a number of songs. ETAOINTI! PLAY AT LITERBERRY. Interesting Program and Splendid Supper Given in Christian Church.

The Loyal Daughters of the Christian church at Literberry gave a successful play and supper Thursday evening in the church, the affair being largely attended and the program much enjoyed. "Men Not Wanted" was the title of the play and it was given following an excellent instrumental solo by Miss Edith Hitchens and an entertaining reading by Miss Wilma Crum. The cast of characters follows:

Mrs. Richard Kellogg—Miss Edith Hitchens.

Grace Kellogg—Miss Lucy Decker.

Margaret Brannon—Miss Evaloe Petefish.

Laura Fitzsimmons—Miss Georgia Litter.

Emma Summers—Miss Edith Gordon.

Frances Ayers—Miss Katherine Petefish.

Helen Stoddard—Miss Fay Stevenson.

Mary Cassell—Miss Mary Gaines.

The young people were much pleased to learn at the conclusion of the performance that the author of the play, Mrs. Belle Elliott Palmer, of this city, was in the audience and she was called upon to speak. Mrs. Palmer complimented those who took part upon the manner in which they performed and then told of how she came to write the play, which was her first. Her remarks were heard with much interest and appreciation.

In the basement of the church booths were arranged and from the sale of the many good things to eat about $20 was realized. Misses Georgia Litter and Evaloe Petefish were in charge of the candy booth; Misses Edith Hitchens, Edith Gordon, Nita Austin and Pauline Dawson presided at the sandwich counter; and Misses Lillian Bateman, Mary Gaines, Wilma Crum and Fay Stevenson were at the booth, where ice cream and cake were sold. The decoration throughout were in the National colors.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP? It Has Been Proved That Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Anna of Bamberg, Germany, and Dr. Schougaard, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the supervision of eminent scientists. This is the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, eliminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots, and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently help to restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by aiding in making every hair root, follicle, and pigment gland strong and active and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

We exact no obligations or promises. We simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it in Jacksonville only at our store—The Rexall Store. Lee P. Albott, east side square.

John Pendleton of Chandlerville was in the city Thursday on business.

THROUGH WITH MARGIN CLERK

WILLIAM E. EHLERT ON WITNESS STAND FOUR DAYS.

Questioned at Length Concerning Difference in Price of Dressed Beef in Boston—Manager Hoops Called to Stand.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—United States District Judge Carpenter held a hard day session of court in the packers' trial today. William E. Ehler, margin clerk for Morris & Co., was cross-examined by Attorney J. W. Borders when court convened. The witness said that one of Morris & Co.'s consignees in Boston sold more than 500,000 pounds of dressed beef a week in 1910. In addition the company had its own branch house in the Massachusetts city.

Is it not true that there was always a difference in selling price in the meat sold by the branch house and consignees in Boston?

"Yes, the prices would vary."

"Even the same lot of beef would bring different prices when sold in the same city on the same day by different persons, would it not?"

"Complaint in regard to this fact was the basis of much criticism contained in the telegrams sent by Louis H. Heyman to eastern representatives, was it not?"

"Yes."

Attorney Borders read many of the Heyman telegrams and had the witness explain the trade terms used in them.

"Who caused the low prices contained in these telegrams?"

"Competition and market conditions," replied Ehler.

Ehler was excused after having been on the stand four days, and Thomas Hoops, manager of the dressed beef department of Morris & Co., for 27 years, was called.

"Who are your superiors in the business of Morris & Co.?" asked Government Counsel Butler.

"Edward Morris, president; Thos. E. Wilson, vice president and C. H. McFarlane, secretary of the company."

"You see them every day they are in the city and confer with them in regard to the management of your department?"

"Yes."

"Who has the last word in deciding how many cattle are to be purchased?"

"Yes."

The witness was shown a weekly summary of margins but denied ever having seen one of them before. He admitted having seen other margin sheets made out in another form. These margin sheets, he said, were sent to Louis H. Heyman, one of the defendants, every Monday.

"You were guided by those figures in determining the amount to be shipped for the current week were you not?"

"Yes."

Hoops said that the price mentioned in the Heyman telegrams meant the market figure.

"Did the test cost have anything to do with the price?"

"Yes. We wanted to get as near the test cost as we could for our beef, the witness said.

Hoops was on the stand when court adjourned.

TARIFF LEGISLATION.

Republican Senators Will Caucus on Subject.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Republican members of the senate finance committee will caucus in a few days to determine procedure on tariff legislation in the senate. The leaders are disposed to await reports of the tariff board and meanwhile to report adversely the house revision measures.

The running fire of attacks on the house steel bill before the finance committee will continue next week, with witnesses representing a large variety of interests.

The chemical tariff revision bill did not create a ripple of interest when brought up to day on the report from the house which passed it yesterday. It was referred to the finance committee.

Daniel J. Driscoll of Auburn, Pa., one of the witnesses to day, contended that the seamless tube manufacturing could not survive the proposed reductions.

James A. Campbell of Youngstown, Ohio, representing independent pipe manufacturers declared that they were not now operating under a fair profit.

Scene From "Country Boy."

One of the amusing scenes in "The Country Boy," Edgar Selwyn's comedy success, which Henry B. Harris will present at the Grand next Monday night, is in the second act, where the dining room of a theatrical boarding house is shown. This scene is said to be an exact reproduction of a boarding house that was located on West Forty-first street, New York, about ten years ago, where Mr. Selwyn and his wife, Margaret Mayo, lived. Some of the others who boarded there at the time, and who later became theatrical celebrities, were the Earl of Yarmouth, Eugene Walter, Eleanor Ross (now Mrs. August Belmont), Mollie Carr Cook, and Jane Kenmark. The landlady was a famous old character and it was said that she wouldn't believe that Yarmouth was an earl, because, as she said, "The idea of his being an earl—why, he's got holes in his socks!"

The general public is always interested in the way actors and actresses live, and very few persons outside of the profession have ever seen a real theatrical boarding house of the type Mr. Selwyn pictures in the second act of "The Country Boy." Those who attend the performances of this clean and wholesome comedy will have an opportunity to take a dinner at a real theatrical boarding house, such as can be found in the streets around the New York theatrical center. One thing is certain, the audience will never get indigestion at this meal, because laughter is said to be an effective preventive for such trouble, and it can truthfully be said that no one has been presented on the American stage in recent years with a has caused more laughter than the now famous dining room scene in "The Country Boy."

If you liked "The Fortune Hunter" you will enjoy "The Country Boy."
